3.56(a)

SANITATION.

*** One enclosure housing two adult rabbits is excessively dirty and requires cleaning. This enclosure contains metal wire flooring over wood structural supports. In the corners of this enclosure, there is a build-up of and caking feces and hair. Additionally, the catch pans below the enclosures have an excess of feces that require removal and cleaning. This is a potential disease hazard for the rabbits and does not satisfy accepted cleanliness standards. Correct this by cleaning and maintaining these enclosure in a sanitary condition.

Correct by: 24 APR 2016

*** Inspection and exit interview conducted with the licensees.
