3.1(b)

HOUSING FACILITIES, GENERAL.

A sheltered building, housing 8 dogs, had a floor, like wooden sub-floor, for the walkway of the housing facility that appeared to have an accumulation of dust/dirt on it. Only one side of the facility housed dogs. Located directly across the walkway from the occupied dog enclosures were partially constructed enclosures which were unoccupied. There was an excessive amount of black shaving-like material on the unoccupied side of the facility including on the walkway of the building. According to the licensee the black shavings were from construction of the enclosures. Additional housing facility surfaces, including the windowsill, appeared to have an accumulation of dust/dirt. There were also some dust-filled cobwebs along the ceiling and the corners of the window. There were several items, not all used for the husbandry of the animals, inside the housing facility laying above the dog enclosures.

The floor of the walkway inside of another sheltered building, housing an adult dog and her puppy, had several square feet of exposed wooden sub-floor. Most of this portion of the floor was at the entrance of the facility; other parts of the floor had a tile down over the sub-floor. The floor also appeared to have some accumulation of gravel and dust on the floor.

The condition and site of housing facilities must be kept neat and free of clutter to facilitate the required husbandry practices and to decrease the risk of disease and/or injury to the dogs. The licensee must ensure that the housing facilities are kept neat and free of accumulations of trash, waste material, junk and other discarded items at all times. To be corrected by: May 22, 2019.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
