FACILITIES, GENERAL.

The large petting zoo pasture behind the owner's house has an 8 foot tall fence made of two sections of 6" X 6" wire fence. At least two areas were noted where a patch of extra fencing was placed over the original fence. The patched areas have rough edges with loose and protruding wires. Along the back fence, sections of fencing have been pushed down by downed trees (which were removed) and this fencing needs to be repaired. There are partially fenced off smaller areas along the tree line and this fencing is in disrepair with some broken protruding wires and pieces of loose fencing laying on the ground. All fencing needs to be maintained to contain the animals and prevent any potential injuries. The owner has plans to remove several areas of fencing and replace other areas. Most of the animals will not be at the farm for several months as they will be with the traveling petting zoo. The fencing needs to be corrected when the owners return or by 2-10-17.

3.131(c)

SANITATION.

In the large pasture for the petting zoo animals is an area of storage for primarily fencing items, including stacks of fence panels, rolls of fencing wire, and a section of 1"X 1" wire on the ground. The goats, sheep, and other petting zoo animals have access to these structures and could potentially injure themselves. The items need to be removed or fenced off so the animals cannot access the items. To be corrected by 11-4-16.
