3.125(a)

Facilities, general.

The fencing for the cow enclosure consists of wooden vertical and horizontal posts, however some sections consist of metal panels affixed together. Sharp edges and significant gaps between the panels were noted. In addition, some vertical fencing posts were leaning significantly causing the fence to sag. Sharp metal edges and gaps between panels could cause injury or allow an animal to become trapped or potentially escape from the enclosure. Outdoor housing facilities must be structurally sound and shall be maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury and to contain the animals. The facility must correct this issue.
