3.75(c)(1)

Housing facilities, general.

The resting box for the squirrel monkey had a two sided crack through the plastic wall of about 6 x 3 inches in length that was displaced from the larger section of the wall. The cracked section may present a risk of injury to digits or tail. The facility must ensure that cage furniture type fixtures are sturdily constructed and allow for safe activity of nonhuman primates.

Correct by end of day August 8, 2023.

3.125(a)

Facilities, general.

The external field gate and two 12 inch sections of inside fencing for the sheep and goats had multiple sharp wire points exposed. Sharp wire points can be a source of potential animal injury. The facility must ensure that the fencing is maintained in good repair to protect animals.

Correct by August 11, 2023.

Direct

Watering.

The water receptacle in the large sheep and goat pen was empty at the time of inspection and the sheep drank for over a minute continuously after it was refilled. The temperature was 82 with high humidity following morning rain, and animals with heavier hair coats may require more frequent watering in warm weather conditions. Water must be available as often as necessary for the health and comfort of the animals.

The facility immediately corrected the issue at the time of inspection.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the facility representative.
