2.40(b)(2)

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

The two conures had a ruffled and unkempt appearance. In addition, the light brown chicken had feather loss, especially on the outer surface of the right wing. An abnormal appearance in birds may indicate poor condition, dietary issues, debility, stress, or a behavior issue. These birds must be examined by a veterinarian to determine an appropriate plan for diagnosis and treatment.

The licensee stated the birds were examined by the attending veterinarian on September 15, 2023.

2.126(a)

Access and inspection of records and property; submission of itineraries.

The records for the facility were not available for review. The facility records are necessary to assess compliance with the regulations and standards, thus helping to ensure animal welfare. The licensee must ensure that all required records are available for review by APHIS officials.

3.127(a)

Facilities, outdoor.

The sheep and goats were present in an outdoor pen that did not provide shade for the animals. When sunlight is likely to cause discomfort or overheating, sufficient shade is necessary to allow the animals to protect themselves. The facility must provide shelter from sunlight for the animals.

The licensee stated the animals would be moved to a suitable enclosure that same day.

3.127(b)

Facilities, outdoor.

Two coatimundi did not have adequate shelter from inclement weather. There was a short overhead section from the roof; however, it would not be sufficient to protect the animals. Shelter must be provided for all animals kept outdoors to afford

Space requirements.

The sheep and goats were present in an outdoor pen that did not have adequate space for the animals. Enclosures must provide sufficient space to allow each animal to make normal postural and social adjustments with adequate freedom of movement. Inadequate space may lead to malnutrition, poor condition, debility, stress, or abnormal behavior patterns. The facility must provide the animals with enclosures that provide adequate space.

The licensee stated the animals would be moved to a suitable enclosure that same day.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
