3.75(c)(3)

HOUSING FACILITIES, GENERAL.

The chain link ceilings in the capuchin dens are coated with a brown, greasy, waxy material buildup. These surfaces, which are accessible to the primates, do not appear to be spot cleaned daily.

All hard surfaces which primates can come in contact shall be spot cleaned daily to prevent disease hazards.

Correct by April 23, 2014

3.78(e)

OUTDOOR HOUSING FACILITIES.

The public barrier that was located on the right side of the ringtail & ruffed lemurs previously consisted of dense vegetation which prevented the public from physical contact with these primates. Due to the cold weather that this area had recently experienced, this vegetation died and this was replaced by one horizontal piece of wood.

This piece of wood does not prevent the public from going up to the exhibit and making physical contact with these primates.

This exhibit shall have an effective barrier which prevents the public from making contact with these primates.

3.125(a)

FACILITIES, GENERAL.

The chain link ceiling in the bear den has advanced, flaking, deteriorating rust along the right side in the left den and the left side of the right den. When some of rusty areas were felt and tested for structural integrity, the rust flaked away leaving a hairline strand of metal. These areas are no longer structurally sound and not in good repair.

All enclosures shall be structurally sound and maintained in good repair to contain the animals and protect them.
