3.127(d)

Facilities, outdoor.

On the outside of the perimeter fence, there are tall trees that could be used as a bridge to bypass the perimeter fence. The perimeter fence should protect the animals in the facility and deter other animals and unauthorized persons from climbing the fence to have contact with the animals inside the facility which could potentially adversely impact their welfare. An overgrowth of plants on or near the perimeter fence can also provide sheltered nesting areas for unwanted pests and affect the structural integrity of the fence.
