3.56(a)(3)

SANITATION.

A build up of excreta and food waste was noted in the bins found under the rabbit enclosures. The bins were stained and had areas of mineral build up. An odor was evident and there was increased insect activity including flies and bees. Bins under the wire floor enclosures must be cleaned at least every week. Bins need to be kept in an appropriate condition so as to prevent excessive odor and insect activity. A clean and well maintained environment is necessary to prevent discomfort to the animals and discourage the spread of disease.

Correct by cleaning the pans by August 30, 2017
