2.40(a)(1)

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

There was no written program of veterinary care available for review. The facility representative stated the last program of veterinary care was in place when the facility had sugar gliders and was disposed of when the sugar gliders were sold. The facility representative stated the 4 rabbits present at the facility had not been examined by a veterinarian. The rabbits appeared healthy and in good body condition.

Failure to have written formal arrangements with an attending veterinarian that includes regularly scheduled visits to the premises can result in inadequate veterinary care and negatively affect the welfare of the animals.

Each dealer must employ an attending veterinarian under formal arrangements which include a written program of veterinary care and regularly scheduled visits to the facility.

2.75(b)(1)

Records: Dealers and exhibitors.

There were no inventory records for the 4 rabbits present at the facility. In addition, there were no acquisition records for the rabbits.

Failure to maintain these records can make it difficult to track animals being used in regulated activities to ensure their humane care and use.

The facility must maintain records containing the required information for animals which fully and correctly disclose the number of animals held, owned, and acquired or disposed of including births and deaths.

2.134(a)

Contingency planning.

There was no written contingency plan on file at the facility.

Failure to have a written contingency plan can result in lack of readiness for emergencies or disasters.

Facilities must develop, document, and follow an appropriate plan to provide for the humane handling, treatment, transportation, housing, and care of their animals in the event of an emergency or disaster.
