2.40(a)(2)

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

The facility has a program of veterinary care that lists an attending veterinarian. Contacting the listed veterinarian revealed that the veterinarian had not been in contact with the licensee since 2020. Furthermore, the veterinarian stated that he thought the facility might have obtained a different veterinarian for care. Not having a veterinarian with a clear agreement for care authority puts the animals at risk of improper care. All care of the animals should be done in accordance with the guidance and under the authority of an attending veterinarian.

Develop an agreement with an attending veterinarian, knowledgeable with all species in the facility, which gives them the authority for oversight of the care. Ensure that care of animals is conducted in accordance with guidance from the attending veterinarian that is given said authority.

Repeat

Sanitation.

Accumulations of hair and dust remain in the animal rooms. Several pens have accumulated hair along the edges of the enclosure. One room which houses two ferrets also has additional non-regulated animals. The dirty litter pans in the ferret enclosure as well as in the additional animal pen creates an unhealthy living condition for the ferrets.

Accumulations of hair, urine, excreta, and other debris may harbor disease hazards, posing a threat to animal health.

Enclosures, litter trays, and housing facilities shall be cleaned as often as necessary to minimize disease hazards and reduce odors.

Remains Uncorrected

3.131(c)

Repeat

Sanitation.

The animals are housed in various rooms throughout the licensee's primary residence. The rooms are overcrowded with personal items and an excessive amount of clutter remains in the animal housing areas. Stored items impinge space such that there is minimal clearance to work with and access the animals, clean enclosures and housing rooms, as well as provide repair to and maintain enclosures. Optimal animal welfare is hindered in such cramped quarters. Premises shall be kept clean and in good repair to protect the animals from injury and to facilitate prescribed husbandry practices.

Remains Uncorrected

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with licensee.
