2.131(b)(1) Critical

Handling of animals.

On June 24th, 2021, a flying squirrel was caught in a secondary door after an interaction with a customer. The secondary door allows animal care staff and members of the public to enter the primary enclosure of the flying squirrels. According to a facility representative, the team member assisting the customer during the interaction, opened the secondary door into a vestibule. Once the customer was in the vestibule, the flying squirrel attempted to leave the primary enclosure. The employee closed the secondary door on the flying squirrel. The team member contacted the manager, who secured the flying squirrel. The flying squirrel died at the time of the incident.

Handling of all animals shall be done as expeditiously and carefully as possible in a manner that does not cause trauma, physical harm, or unnecessary discomfort.

This was corrected at the time of inspection by adding plastic freezer straps in front of the secondary door, changing the secondary door to a mosquito mesh sliding door with magnetic closure, retraining staff, and increased checks by team members before exiting the enclosure.
