3.11(c)

Cleaning, sanitization, housekeeping, and pest control.

There is an accumulation of cobwebs in the corners of the walls and within the window sills of the cat rooms. The approximate size of the cobwebs are 12 inches X 12 inches in all four corners of the rooms, and approximately 6 inches X 6 inches within the window sills. The presence of cobwebs can collect dust and other debris and may affect the health and wellbeing of the cats. A system should be in place to ensure cobwebs are removed as needed to facilitate the husbandry practices required in this subpart. Premises where housing facilities are located, including buildings, and surrounding grounds must be kept clean, to facilitate the husbandry practices required in this subpart, to protect the health and wellbeing of the animals.

3.153(a)(1)(ii)

Primary enclosures.

In the pigeon primary enclosure: There is a vertical support beam that is not securely anchored to the horizontal support beams. Following light/moderate manual pressure by the inspector, the beam easily moved and appeared unstable. Primary enclosures that are not structurally sound may cause an injury to the birds housed within. Primary enclosures must be designed and constructed of suitable materials so that they are structurally sound and kept in good repair to prevent injury to the birds.
