Records: Dealers and exhibitors.

There is no record of the animals that are currently being housed and held for breeding purposes (animal inventory). Likewise, there has been no record kept of offspring born to those animals, which were subsequently either kept for continued breeding or sold at retail. Without this information, it is difficult to verify that the animals were obtained appropriately by the dealer, and that all of the offspring born were sold through appropriate methods. Dealers shall keep and maintain records disclosing the name and address of the person from whom the animals were acquired, the date of acquisition, the number and species in the shipment, and include all offspring born while in the dealer's possession.

Sales records were complete as required by this section of the regulations.

Correct by making and maintaining records of animals on hand that are purchased, acquired, or otherwise held by the dealer, including all offspring born to those animals while in the dealer's possession.

Inspection Report

There was excreta and waste buildup present in the pans beneath enclosures as well as scattered on the floor surrounding the cages. According to the facility representative, the enclosures had not been cleaned in over a week. Failure to perform sufficient cleaning in the enclosures and surrounding areas can increase the likelihood of disease transmission and can increase odor in the area. The licensee must ensure that primary enclosures and the premises where animals are held are kept clean and in good repair in order to facilitate the prescribed husbandry practices set forth in this subpart.

Correct by 09/29/2021.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the facility representative.
