***The red fox in the enclosure at the top of the hill has a thick yellowish green discharge in it's right eye. The red fox in the enclosure at the bottom of the park has similar discharge from both eyes. The foxes appear thin with scruffy hair coats indicting they may have an illness. The foxes had previously been treated for having a discharge from the eyes but there is no documentation to indicate the foxes current conditions have been observed by employees or that the veterinarian has been notified. There are several conditions that can cause an animal to develop a discharge from the eyes (allergies, injury, respiratory diseases,etc). These conditions left untreated my result in more severe illness or possibly death. The foxes shall be examined by the veterinarian and appropriate treatment provided. Documentation of the examination and treatment shall be retained for review by APHIS Officials.
