2.31(e)(3)

Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC).

- The primary protocol for the use of mice and guinea pigs does not contain any description of the final disposition method for the animals. Protocols involving animals must have a complete description of their intended use. The facility should determine appropriate options to dispose of animals after testing, and provide a complete description of these options in their protocols.

Correct by 20 June 2024
