3.53(a)(4)

Primary enclosures.

The floor of the male rabbit's hutch is constructed of wire mesh. The welds of some of the wire mesh in the right front corner were broken so that there was a gap or opening in the floor approximately 2x2 inches in size, and some of the broken welds had sharp points. The gap/opening in the wire mesh floor poses a risk of injury to the rabbit from entrapment of the rabbit's feet/legs or injury to the skin from the sharp points.

Per this Section, the floors of the primary enclosures shall be constructed so as to protect the rabbits' feet and legs from injury. The Licensee needs to address this item for the health and safety of the rabbit. Correct by 4/29/24.

This inspection and exit briefing were conducted with facility representatives.
