3.125(a)

Facilities, general.

In the field where the cows are housed, there are several focal areas where the fence line is no longer in good repair, with sharp points protruding into the enclosure. Enclosures for all animals should be constructed in a manner that is appropriate and safe for the animals involved and should regularly be maintained so as to protect the animals from injury and to ensure their health and well-being.

Correct by 15 May 2022

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the Attending Veterinarian.
