Feeding.

At least 10 enclosures housing adult guinea pigs with their offspring have caking and hardened debris on the lip of the self-feeders. A buildup of hardened debris, caking, and organic matter on self-feeders can expose the guinea pigs to bacterial infections and other disease risks. Licensee must ensure that self-feeders are kept clean and sanitized at least once every 2 weeks. Correct by May 9, 2024.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
