2.131(c)(1)

Handling of animals.

The front of the shelter area within the large outdoor enclosure housing an adult male camel has fence panels with spaces large enough to allow the general public to interact directly with him. The male camel was observed to contact the fence where members of the public were able to get right up to the enclosure fence. The raccoon enclosure also has fencing with holes large enough for the public to put their fingers or hands in and potentially contact the raccoons if they approach the fence line. Similarly, the fisher and opossum have mesh fencing large enough for a child's finger to protrude through.

During public exhibition, any animal must be handled so that there is minimal risk of harm to the animals and to the public, with sufficient distance and/or barriers between the animal and the general viewing public so as to assure the safety of animals and the public. Allowing people to touch and interact directly with the camel and other animals without proper distance or barriers plus the supervision of a responsible attendant, does not ensure the safety of the animal or the general public. Correct by ensuring that there is sufficient distance and/or barriers between the animals and public during exhibition to protect both the animals and the public.

Correct by 6/20/25.

2.131(d)(2)

Handling of animals.

There were designated feeding areas in which we observed members of the public able to directly contact animals during the inspection. There was not a readily identifiable attendant present at all times during the animal contact and feeding experiences involving: Emu (on the back side of the pen), Elk, Niglai, Fallow Deer, Whitetail and Red deer, the petting zoo area (Goats, Turkey, Alpacas, Sheep), Mouflon, and Domestic cow.

Other areas in the park encourage feeding with "Feed Me" signs which could allow public contact if animals approach these areas where an attendant was not present: Aoudad, Water Buffalo, Fallow deer bucks, Sika Deer, Urial Sheep. Lack of a responsible, knowledgeable, readily identifiable employee or attendant during times of public contact does not help prevent improper feeding or improper handling of animals and increases risk to the public. If public contact with certain animals is to be allowed, the licensee must ensure that a responsible, knowledgeable, readily identifiable
