2.31(d)(1)(6)

INSTITUTIONAL ANIMAL CARE AND USE COMMITTEE (IACUC).

An approved research protocol involving special housing conditions to study metabolism in sheep from two different sources provided the housing conditions for only one source.

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee must assure that the living conditions of all animals will be appropriate for their species and contribute to their health and comfort. The housing, feeding, and nonmedical care of the animals shall be directed by the attending veterinarian or other scientist trained and experienced in the proper care, handling, and use of the species being maintained or studied.
