3.150(a) Critical Facilities, general.

On November 22, 2023, a female Taveta weaver was missing from the howdy cage (smaller cage used for introductions) within the night house in the walk-thru aviary. According to the mortality report, the keeper located a 2-foot corn snake in the enclosure above the holding door with a "weaver-sized bulge". The staff reported that the bird was presumed predated due to the appearance of the snake and the feathers on the ground below where it was located. The night house walls are constructed with wire mesh that the staff suspect is large enough to allow access to small snakes. Birds that are not protected from hazards or predation may suffer from stress, injury, or death. Correct by ensuring that bird enclosures are maintained in good repair, protect the birds from injury, contain the birds, and restrict other animals from entering who may negatively affect the welfare of the birds within. Corrected before the time of inspection.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative.
