3.153(a)(1)(iii)

Primary enclosures.

A single male cockatoo had bent several wire hog ties on a wire access patch to the enclosure and had escaped and was free on the property at the time of inspection.

The nest box on an enclosure containing 3 rose breasted cockatoos had an approximately 3-inch diameter hole chewed through a panel on the back wall creating an opening large enough for the inhabitants to escape the enclosure.

The primary enclosure must be constructed and maintained to contain the bird securely.
