3.56(a)(1)

SANITATION.

The large rabbit hutch housing the angora rabbit has a large amount of feces caked on the bottom side of the floor where the droppings did not completely pass through the mesh. Excess accumulations of feces increases the possibility of contamination and disease hazards that may cause illness. The hutch shall be properly cleaned to prevent excess accumulations and protect the rabbits from illness. Correct by March 14, 2016.

The exit briefing conducted with the owner.
