3.31(b)

Sanitation.

Housekeeping. There is a buildup of dust and dirt on the two shelves in the guinea pig shed containing veterinary medications and products. Animal facilities including shelves and supplies must be kept clean to protect the health of the animals and to prevent unnecessary disease risks. Veterinary medications and products need to be stored in a safe manner such as a cabinet or container to prevent supplies from becoming dirty and contaminated. Correct by ensuring shelves and supplies are kept clean and free of dust and dirt to support good animal husbandry and health. Correct by January 30, 2021.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
