Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC).

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) did not review and vote to approve the protocol "Draft Training Protocol for Live Specimen Labs Using Swine," prior to initiating animal activities. This included a failure to review whether this activity included procedures that would cause more than momentary or slight pain and whether procedures would avoid or minimize discomfort and pain to the animals. Ten pigs were utilized for this protocol during the timeframes of March 29 through April 9, 2021 and October 4 through October 15, 2021.

The IACUC is mandated to ensure the humane use of animals utilized in research and teaching. Therefore, failure to ensure a complete IACUC review and formal vote for approval/non-approval prior to initiating activities can result in unnecessary use of animals and undue pain, discomfort, distress, illness, injury or death to animals. A thorough review of proposed animal activities is central to the IACUC's mission because it facilitates assessment of the potential effects of proposed activities on the animals and consideration of any alternative procedures or potentially mitigating measures that should be implemented to prevent undue pain and suffering.

The IACUC must thoroughly review and vote to approve/not approve or require modification to, all components of any protocol proposing the care and use of animals (as specified in the "Animal Welfare Act and Animal Welfare Regulations," Part 2, Subpart C, Section 2.31(d)(1)) prior to actually performing the proposed animal work. This includes ensuring that protocols contain a complete description of the procedures designed to assure that discomfort and pain to animals will be limited to that which is unavoidable for the conduct of scientifically valuable research and teaching. The facility must also ensure that IACUC activities, attendance, deliberations and voting outcomes are documented in the IACUC meeting minutes.

TO BE CORRECTED BY 03/31/2022.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with facility representatives.
