Primary enclosures.

The enclosure housing the four ducks and one goose did not contain a pool or other aquatic area. The only item containing water present was the drinking water bucket (standard horse feed bucket size). The lack of pools or other aquatic areas of sufficient surface area and depth does not allow the birds to perform their natural postural and social adjustments such as immersion, bathing, and swimming with adequate freedom of movement. Enclosures housing wading and aquatic birds must contain a pool or other aquatic area along with dry areas. Correct by 11/24/24.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
