Miscellaneous.

The facility failed to provide Contingency Plan training to a new employee within 30 days of the employee's start date. Facility representatives confirmed that a new employee that started work at the facility in December, 2023 has not been trained on the Contingency Plan as of the date of inspection.

Contingency plans and training for personnel are required to help ensure animal health and well-being in the event of an emergency or disaster. If Contingency Plan training is not provided, personnel may not be aware of their roles and responsibilities; animals may suffer illness, injury or death due to unpreparedness should an emergency or disaster strike. The registrant must provide and document Contingency Plan training for its personnel regarding their roles and responsibilities as outlined in the Contingency Plan and ensure that that new hires receive this training within 30 days of their start date. Additionally, the registrant must conduct and document a review of the Contingency Plan at least once annually; any substantive changes made during this review must be communicated to employees through documented training within 30 days of making the changes.
