2.40(b)(2) Direct

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

Both right and left rear hooves of the yak are excessively overgrown. This is causing a deformation of both feet. Overgrown hooves can cause lameness, pain and can lead to other serious conditions. These hooves must be trimmed and the licensee must follow a maintenance plan to keep them under control. Correct by 25 Aug. 2023.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative.
