Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

A bottle of Oxytocin was found with an expiration date of Nov 2021. In addition, there was an excessive amount of miscellaneous items, dust and clutter in the medication storage area. Expired medications may lose their effectiveness and can adversely impact the animals. Expired medications must be removed or labeled and must be properly stored. The expired Oxytocin was disposed of at the time of inspection.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
