HEALTH CERTIFICATION AND IDENTIFICATION.

Owner is on the road with his dog act and does not have current health certificates for any of the dogs traveling in the act. Health certificates ensure dogs are healthy and free from contagious diseases before entering into interstate commerce. Health certificates must be issued by a licensed veterinarian before dogs are transported in commerce.

2.126(c)

ACCESS AND INSPECTION OF RECORDS AND PROPERTY; SUBMISSION OF ITINERARIES.

Any person who intends to exhibit any animal at any location other than the person's approved site and stay overnight must submit a written itinerary received by the AC Regional Director no fewer than 2 days in advance of any travel and shall contain complete and accurate information concerning the whereabouts of any animal intended for exhibition at any location. The itinerary shall include the exact address, dates, number of animals, name of the person exhibiting and transporting the animal, etc.

No itinerary for the current travel to the Pet Expo at Orange County Fair has been submitted to the regional office.

Correct for all future travel.

PRIMARY ENCLOSURES.

In the show tent, Rock and Bo were housed in kennels that do not provide sufficient head space. When seated in front of his kennel, Rock's head extended above the top of the kennel. Bo was unable to stand in his kennel in a comfortable normal position.

The dogs kept their heads lower when moving in their cages as compared to the other dogs in the room with adequate cage height. When the dogs were in a normal standing position the tops of their heads were less than 6 inches from the top of the cages. Housing is an important aspect of animal husbandry and plays a significant role in animal health and well-being. Enclosures with insufficient space may have a negative impact on the health and
