ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

The written program of veterinary care lacks sufficient detail. The ectoparasite control program states that the animal will be monitored monthly and treated as required, The treatment for ectoparasites must include the drug name, dosage, route of administration and frequency so that licensee can treat animals appropriately. The licensee must establish and maintain programs of adequate veterinary care that include the appropriate method to prevent, control, diagnose, and treat diseases and injuries. The program of veterinary care must be complete to provide adequate guidance to the licensee to maintain the health and well-being of the animals. All medications used on the guinea pigs must be approved by the attending veterinarian.
