2.40(b)(2)

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

***In the sheltered housing facility, there was a female Boston Terrier identified as Mouse #0A01564144 that had intermittent limited weight bearing on the front left leg. The facility representative stated that Mouse was bitten by another dog about four days ago. On closer observation there were puncture wounds high on the inside of the left leg. The facility representative stated that veterinarian had not been contacted, yet they had separated this dog and were treating the puncture wounds. Limited weight bearing or non-weight bearing limbs are an indication of discomfort, pain, injury or disease and increase the risks of further deterioration if not properly treated or left if left unattended.

There was also a female Boston Terrier identified as Dawnde 2 #0A01652831 that was consistently and repeatedly blinking her eyes. The eyes were tearing. The facility representative stated that it was probably allergies, no treatment was being given and a veterinarian had not been contacted. Eye tearing and repeated blinking can occur due to infection, allergies, injury, irritation or other medical conditions that could be painful. The licensee must contact a licensed veterinarian concerning both of these dogs for proper treatment and assure that all of the animals are provided with adequate veterinary care as required.

To be corrected by July 29, 2016

***On the hands on vet check there was a male Boston Terrier identified as Shadow #0A01540410 that was marked not sound for breeding. Shadow was still intact and being housed with an intact female dog. Dogs that are used for breeding that have been identified as not being sound for breeding by a veterinarian, can increase the risk of harmful conditions to either adult or the puppies. The licensee separated Shadow into a single housing enclosure during the inspection. The licensee must follow recommendations of a veterinarian and assure that all of the dogs receive adequate veterinary care as required.

Corrected during inspection.

The inspection and exit conference were conducted with the facility representative, Bill Heine, ACI and Bev Hicks, ACI.

End of report.
