2.40(b)(2)

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

There is a Maltese female #60 noted to have excessive drooling at the front of the mouth. The cheek teeth on the right side of her upper jaw are heavily caked with a brownish concretion, and one tooth is noticeably loose. The gums in this region are swollen and dark in color.

Dental disease can be a painful condition that may lead to other infections, trouble eating, and weight loss. This dog needs to be examined and treated by a veterinarian for dental disease. Record of the examination and treatment, as well as any further instructions provided by the veterinarian on a dental health maintenance program, must be kept and made available for APHIS officials on future inspection.
