3.56(c)

Sanitation.

There is a moderate accumulation of both fresh and dried urine underneath and splattered on a wall adjacent to the primary enclosures housing four rabbits. Although the primary enclosures and collection pans were free from excreta, the areas surrounding the enclosures were not. The facility representative stated those areas have been difficult to access and the rabbits will be moved to a different location. Areas surrounding primary animal enclosures that are difficult to access can have accumulations of excreta, which may increase disease hazards to rabbit housing facilities. Premises, including areas surrounding animal housing enclosures, shall be kept clean in order to facilitate the prescribed husbandry practices set forth in this subpart.

To be corrected by 9/20/2024

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the facility representative.
