Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

The female zebu's front hooves are misshaped and overgrown. The tips of both digits on the right hoof and the outer digit of the left hoof are beginning to point upward. The tip of inner right digit is bulbous in shape. There appears to be divot, approximately 1 centimeter in diameter and approximately a half centimeter deep, in the outer digit of the left hoof near where the hoof wall meets the skin. The zebu walks with an abnormal gait and appears to be painful in the front feet/legs when walking.

Overgrown hooves can lead to an abnormal gait and potential bone changes that can become chronically painful. Each exhibitor shall establish and maintain programs of adequate veterinary care that include daily observation of all animals to assess their health and well-being. Daily observation of animals may be accomplished by someone other than the attending veterinarian provided that a mechanism of direct and frequent communication with the attending veterinarian is accomplished so that timely and accurate information on problems of animal health, behavior, and well-being is conveyed to the attending veterinarian.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative.
