Facilities, general.

Sometime between the evening of 3/7/2024 and the morning of 3/8/2024, three foxes (Nora, Bolt, and Rip) escaped from the twilight enclosure. The foxes dug an approximately 18 inches long tunnel that extended below the dig barrier on the edge of the north wall of the enclosure and the north wall of the enclosure. After escaping the enclosure, the foxes then dug a tunnel under the gate of the perimeter fence surrounding the twilight enclosure and escaped outside the perimeter fence. Rip was seen on facility property the morning of 3/8/24. He was quickly captured and placed in a different enclosure with a concrete base. Nora and Bolt were captured in different locations off facility property later in the day on 3/8/24 and placed in the alternate facility enclosure with Rip. All three foxes were captured in good health and without injury.

A primary enclosure that is not designed and maintained to prevent escape of the animals contained within the enclosure could lead to injury, harm, or loss of the escaped animals.

Primary enclosures for wild animals must be structurally sound and maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury and contain the animals.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative.
