2.40(a)(2) REPEAT

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

 There were two great pyrenees puppies that was diagnosed with sarcoptic mange by the attending veterinarian. They were being housed along with 3 young llama s. The attending veterinarian stated that she wanted all of the animals to be treated with injectable ivermectin. Instead the llamas were treated with oral ivermectin by the owner. The owner stated that he did not know that he was not supposed to treat the animals orally. Since the owner was said to have already treated the animals the veterinarian was unable to treat with the injectable for fear of overdose. There are no records of the oral ivermectin being given, the amount, dosage and route in which the medication was administered to the animals. To ensure the proper medication was given and the condition was treated appropriately the attending veterinarian should have the appropriate authority to make sure the provision of adequate veterinary care has been given to the animals.

2.75(a)(1) REPEAT

RECORDS: DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS.

 There were no records documenting the acquisition and disposition of two great pyrenees puppies and 3 young llamas. The exhibitor shall make, keep and maintain records or forms which correctly disclose the information on these animals.

This was a focused inspection. The exit interview was conducted with the owner.
