3.131(c)

SANITATION.

Surgery suite: There was an accumulation of dust on screen monitors and other equipment items in this room. The base of an intravenous fluid stand had a moderate buildup of dust and mineralized debris. An area of the ceiling adjacent to a light fixture had evidence of flaking and peeling paint. Surfaces in animal areas should be kept clean, sanitized and maintained in good repair to reduce the potential for contamination and to protect the health and well-being of the animals. A system must be in place that adequately facilitates the prescribed husbandry practices.

Correct by 12/30/2015

Exit interview was conducted with facility representative, Dr. Jeffrey Lee, VMO and Dr. Tyler Fields, VMO.
