3.58(a)

CLASSIFICATION AND SEPARATION.

A rabbit and a chinchilla were housed together in the same primary enclosure. The chinchilla was on the upper level, but had access to the lower level while the rabbit did not have access to the upper level. The facility has been observing the animals and have not noticed any compatibility problems or impact to the health of the animals. Under classification and separation, rabbits shall not be housed in the same primary enclosure with any other species of animals unless required for scientific reasons. Facility agreed to separate the rabbit from the chinchilla within days. Correction date: 30 August, 2016

3.125(a) REPEAT

FACILITIES, GENERAL.

In the llama, sheep and goat pen, there are multiple areas on the fence that have wires loose or sticking out. The loose wires have the potential for an animal to scratch themselves or otherwise cause injury. The outdoor housing facilities shall be structurally sound and shall be maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury. A system of maintenance must be in place to ensure that the primary enclosures are maintained in good repair.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with facility personnel.

The inspector completed this inspection report when Animal Care was transitioning to a new information management system. Because the inspector re-typed the inspection report into the new system when it was deployed, the "prepared by" date on this inspection report is different than the date the inspector prepared the original inspection report, which occurred on 26 August, 2016.
