2.76(a) REPEAT

RECORDS: OPERATORS OF AUCTION SALES AND BROKERS.

Sec. 2.76 Records: (a) Every operator of an auction sale or broker shall make, keep, and maintain records

According to the records, on 7/1/14, there were two Yorkshire Terrier mixed breed dogs identified as 343 6-4-14 and 344 6-4-14 that were transported to a pet store. On a disposition record with an unreadable date, there were two female Maltese/Poodles identified as 368 9-1 and 369 9-1 that were transported to a pet store. On 8/14/14 there were three Miniature Pinschers identified as 362 8-14, 363 8-14 and 364 8-14 and three Dachshunds identified as 365 8-14, 366 8-14 and 367 8-14 that were transported to a pet store. There were no records to show the origin of these animals.

On 7/19/14 the records showed that a male dog, unknown breed, unknown date of birth, identified as 371 was received. On 8/9/14 the records showed that a male red Heeler identified as 370 that was received. There were no records of disposition for these animals.

Appropriate documentation for acquired and sold animals is essential for proper identification, tracing forward and trace back of the animal. The licensee must correctly document all broker records of acquisition and disposition for all regulated animals and assure that all records are kept as required.

2.101(a)(4)

HOLDING PERIOD.

(a) Any live dog or cat acquired by a dealer (4) 120 days of age or less

While reviewing records, a lemon, red/white male Beagle identified as HP4778460 with a date of birth showing 07/05/14 was received on 09/15/14. Records also show that a male Beagle lemon/white, date of birth 07/05/14 with broker ID 3749-3 was transported to a pet store on 09/15/14. The identification numbers do not match, yet no other records past the received date show transport/disposition of a Beagle. Holding periods are essential for observation of signs of stress, discomfort or other conditions that could be complicated by transport. The licensee must assure that all dogs 120 days of age or less that are received for transport are held as required.
