ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

Dog with USDA tag #019, Yorkshire terrier male, was noticed to have an excessive amount of watery discharge around the eyes and licking its mouth. Upon further examination, this dog was noticed to have an excessive buildup of dental calculi on a majority of his teeth. There were areas where the gum line was red and swollen. In addition, there were areas that the gum line has started to recede. Having dental issues can cause the dog pain and discomfort if left untreated. Licensee must have this dog evaluated by a licensed veterinarian. Documentation of the examination, diagnosis and treatment must be maintained and made available for inspection.

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

Dog with USDA tag #019, Yorkshire terrier male, was noticed to be having abnormal behavior by excessively licking its mouth and watery eyes. Any abnormalities with the dogs should be noticed and documented while performing daily observations. If the Licensee were to have noticed these abnormalities, he would have found that this dog had dental issues that need to be addressed. Daily observation is required to address all health issues within the facility. Licensee must have daily observation of all animals and have frequent communication with the attending veterinarian to ensure that all observed health issues are treated within a timely manner.
