2.40(b)(2)

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

The three Angora goats need to have their hooves trimmed. The hooves are in various stages of overgrowth with the worst ones beginning to cause the digits to be in an abnormal position. If left uncorrected, this could eventually cause joint or foot problems. To avoid future problems a regular program of trimming needs to be maintained, with trimming occurring on an as frequent basis as is necessary to maintain a normal hoof and foot posture. Correct by August 14, 2014 and then continuously.

3.52(a)

FACILITIES, OUTDOOR.

When the sun is overhead, there is no shaded area for the rabbits outside of their shelter. For their health and comfort, some type of shade must be provided on days when the outdoor temperatures might cause overheating. The shade should be sufficient for all animals to have access at the same time without crowding together. Correct by 1 August 2014.

FACILITIES, OUTDOOR.

There is no shade available in the pig or camel enclosures. For the animals' health and comfort, when temperatures are likely to cause discomfort, shade must be provided. Correct by 1 August 2014

An exit interview was conducted with the licensee.
