3.81(b)

ENVIRONMENT ENHANCEMENT TO PROMOTE PSYCHOLOGICAL WELL-BEING.

The snow macaque named Mojo has been housed since Sunday in an enclosure that does not have adequate enrichment for the nonhuman primate. Exhibitors must follow an appropriate plan for environment enhancement adequate to promote the psychological well-being of nonhuman primates. The physical environment in the primary enclosure must be enriched by providing means of expressing noninjurious species-typical activities. Correct by October 2, 2014.

3.125(a) REPEAT

FACILITIES, GENERAL.

On the front side at the bottom of the fencing in the bobcat's primary enclosure the post has rusted completely through leaving a gap between the fencing and the adjacent post. Also the bottom of the fencing running along the ground has rusted through leaving a space for the younger cats to potentially escape through. The primary enclosure is in disrepair and should be maintained to contain the animals and prevent escape. Correct by October 14, 2014

This was a focused inspection of the tigers, bears, black leopard, nonhuman primates, bobcats and records.

The inspection and exit briefing was conducted with the curator.
