REPEAT

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

During the inspection a degu was found to have an approximately 2.5 cm in diameter lesion in the middle of its back. Based on the appearance of the lesion, the injury occurred more than a day ago. The licensee indicated that he had not noticed the lesion prior to the inspection and had not been in contact with the attending veterinarian regarding the injury. Appropriate methods to identify/observe sick, dying, and/or injured animals must be used to ensure proper diagnoses and treatment of those affected animals in providing adequate veterinary care. A program of adequate veterinary care must be in place to prevent, control, diagnose, and treat diseases and injuries for the health and well being of the animals housed in the facility. Ensure that all employees are properly trained to make observations and report any and all animals that show signs of sickness and/or injury in addition to contacting the attending veterinarian regarding the proper care of the animals.
