Inspection Report

Some plywood on the walls of two different enclosures that dogs can contact is not sealed and is not impervious to moisture. Surfaces that dogs touch that are not impervious to moisture can become soiled quickly and cannot be sanitized. Ensure that the surfaces dogs can contact are maintained impervious to moisture.

3.13(a)

Veterinary care for dogs.

The facility reports changing attending veterinarians and remembers the new veterinarian approved a written program of veterinary care, however was not able to locate it. To ensure adequate veterinary care is planned for and can be provided, the program of veterinary care for dogs must be in writing, signed by the attending veterinarian and available for inspection by APHIS officials.

Note: The facility had documentation that the new veterinarian has made regularly scheduled visits and said they have scheduled the veterinarian to visit and complete another Program of Veterinary Care in the case the previously approved program can't be located.
