Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

An adult dog was found with untreated dental disease. Barbie, a six-year-old female Yorkie (m/c# 991001898038409) had excessive tarter build up on her canines and molars. On her right side both her canine teeth are halfway covered, while the rest of her teeth are completely covered in a thick hard dark brown buildup. There is a milky white creme like buildup of material at the top of the teeth and under the gum line on the two upper teeth behind the canine. The gums on this side are red and swollen. On her left side the upper canine and the bottom two teeth behind the canine are 3/4 covered while the upper tooth behind the canine and the upper molar are completely covered in a thick hard dark brown buildup. The tooth behind the upper canine and upper molar has gum recession. The gums have recessed so much on the upper back molar the root is visible. The gums on this side are also red and swollen. Poor dental health can cause pain and discomfort to the animal and can lead to further health issues. This dog must be evaluated by a licensed veterinarian for an accurate diagnosis and to develop an effective treatment plan. Each dealer must follow an appropriate program of veterinary care for dogs that includes preventative care and treatment to ensure healthy teeth for all dogs.
