Requirements and application.

The facility is operating a seasonal pumpkin patch which includes an exhibit featuring USDA regulated animals (a dromedary camel and a watusi). A USDA official purchased a ticket and walked through the facility. The USDA official then introduced themselves to the facility owner and stated that the facility needs a USDA license to exhibit animals such as watusi and camels. The USDA official hand delivered the inspection report. A USDA license is required to exhibit exotic animals including watusi and camels. No regulated activities may be conducted until a USDA license is obtained.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative.
