Cleaning, sanitization, housekeeping, and pest control.

At time of inspection all three sheltered housing facilities had a significant infestation of rodents. An abundance of rodent fecal matter and live mice were observed in the indoor portion of the sheltered housing facilities. An infestation of rodents can cause disease issues and contaminate animal food stuffs. The licensee must implement an effective program that reduces the infestation of rodents in order to promote the health and well-being of the animals.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with Licensee.
