2.40(a)(1)

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

The Program of Veterinary Care: The written program needs more detail in the following areas: The Parasite Control Program: describe the frequency of sampling or treatment. , Emergency Care (more detail needed on who provide emergency care if the attending veterinarian is unavailable), and Method of Euthanasia (more detail would include route, dose, product). This information is important so that the preventative medicine program established and implemented help insure that the animals are maintained in good health. It is important that the written Program of Veterinary Care is updated periodically, or whenever there is a new species obtained, or when other veterinary health changes occur.

CLEANING, SANITIZATION, HOUSEKEEPING, AND PEST CONTROL.

Both capuchin enclosures - resting platforms also used for feeding: This area has an accumulation of hair, and food waste trapped at the edge of platform and wire mesh of the cage. Food waste must be removed from inside each primary enclosure daily. Perches, bars, and shelves must be kept clean and replaced when worn to prevent the nonhuman primates from becoming soiled. A system is to be implemented to ensure adequate cleaning.
